

How important is annual maintenance for a gas heating system?

The majority of boiler and furnace manufacturers require proof of annual maintenance on these systems to ensure peak performance and top efficiency. Also to keep the Manufacturers warranty valid. Make sure that you read the boilers fine print warranty it could help save future issues from causing you financial distress. If you do not have the warranty paperwork most up to date manufacturers have the documents right online. Cleaning your heating system makes sure that you are getting peak performance from your equipment. This preventive maintenance will save you on your heating costs. Call now to schedule a cleaning 978-851-2486.